MetLife and PreViser Corporation announce disease management initiative

MOUNT VERNON, Wash. – December 20, 2006 – PreViser Corporation (www.previser.com), a Washington State-based provider of patented oral disease and risk assessment software technology to the dental industry, announced today the finalization of an agreement whereby MetLife will offer dentists the use of PreViser's oral health assessment software to more effectively plan treatment for patients affected by, or at risk of, gum disease for those patients covered by MetLife's dental programs.

MetLife, the nation's largest commercial dental insurer, has been a leader in promoting oral disease prevention programs and has pioneered many new and successful approaches to enhancing oral health care. Under the agreement with PreViser, a pilot of selected PDP dentists and PDP group dental practices who participate in MetLife's Preferred Dentist Program will have access to the PreViser health risk assessment tool through the MetDental Dentist portal. Based upon the information gathered from this pilot, the tool will be offered to additional dental practices. MetLife and PreViser believe that treatment planning can be more effective when planning decisions are in part based on the dentist and the patient understanding individual disease risk and the severity of disease.

Dr. Alan Vogel, MetLife's Vice-President, Dental, stated, "MetLife has been a national leader of developing and administering effective disease management programs. We believe PreViser's technology will allow us to do an even more effective job of helping our insured patients achieve optimum oral health."

Carl Loeb, Chief Executive Officer of PreViser, noted that "There is no insurer we know of that has been more innovative in the field of dental insurance than MetLife. We are very much looking forward to working with this fine company on this project."

Launch of the program is slated for January 2007.
